Forecast for Thursday 23 Jun 2022

Weather: Low cloud and perhaps some patchy drizzle will continue to affect some western rangesinto the morning, in particular those in the southwest such as the Cuillins and around Lochaber. Further north and more especially, east, could see a few clear spells overnight and then brighter conditions into the morning. Any low cloud slowly lifting through towards midday with a good deal of dry, bright weather in the afternoon and evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 40% into the morning with the best chances in the east. 70% in the afternoon and evening.

Low cloud and visibility: Low cloud occasionally down to 500 m in the west and southwest through the morning. Becoming more broken and often above summits through the afternoon. Good visibility away from low cloud.
